Seven Men Instantly Killed, Two Locomo tives Demolished and Cars Wrecked by: Collision on the Louisville & Nashville Road Between an Accommodation Train and a Wild Engine—The Victims. NASHVILLE, Tenn , July 21 .- One of the most terrible accidents that over occurred on a Tennessee railroad, resulting in the loss of seven lives, took place one mile north of Duck River Station, on the Decatur division of the Louisville & Nashville railroad, last night, being caused by a collision between a wild engine George's church in St. Louis, will resume and the Columbia passenger accommodation train.

> The accommodation, which had about one hundred passengers on board, left this city at ten minutes past four o'clock yesterday afternoon in charge of M. A. Kidd, conductor pro tem. It ran at the rate of twenty-five miles an hour, and at 6:15 neared Duck River station, when the wild engine, which belonged to the Nashville & Florence railroad, and was being taken to Nashville to be repaired, dashed into it with terrible force as the train was entering a cut not far from the Rutherford creek bridge. The shock was terrific, and created the greatest consternation among the people on the passenger train. The tender of the latter was driven nearly through the baggage car, and both locomotives were totally wrecked. The escaping steam rendered it almost impossible for the passengers to see the engines, but an investigation was quickly made.

It was found that seven men had been instantly killed and that the coaches were greatly damaged. The locomotive of the accomodation train was in charge of Henry E. Lanman, engineer, who was assisted by R. P. Brown, Jr., fireman. Both were discovered dead under the cab. The wild engine was manned by Thaddeus D. Beech, engineer, and Patrick King, fireman, who were also dead when

She gained entrance to the second story by means of a ladder, at the rear of the building. Sullivan's son knocked on the bed-room door and said he had a note for Miss Hamilton. She replied that she did not receive messages at that time of night. Mrs. Sullivan and party broke in the door and found Sullivan in bed and Miss Hamilton standing in the middle of the room Mrs. Sullivan at once seized the woman, and while the son and his friends kept the guilty pair quiet with drawn re-volvers. Mrs. Sullivan turned a bucket full of mixed tar and creosote over Miss Hamilton's head and shoulders, completely covering her person with the mess. Mr. Sullivan then hastily dressed and left to escape the imprecations of the party, and the wife and son soon departed also. Physicians were summoned by Miss Hamilton at once, but when the tar cooled it could not be cleaned from her once beautiful head of hair, and her hair was therefore shaved off close to the scalp. In this plight, and almost blinded besides, she returned to her home in Dayton. This morning she is a pitable sight, and says she is done with Troy forever. She will make an appeal to the Miami Court courts for redress. Public sympathy is outspoken and unanimous for Mrs. Sullivan, who will at once institute pro-

A Band of Young Mississippians Who Propose that Negroes Shall Not Work in Newton County-The Law Invoked. Jackson, Miss., July 22 .- A deplorable state of affairs exists near Union, Newton County, about seventy miles east of here. A band of young men styl-sued a decree that no negro shall work on the farms in that vicinity. The band contains about fifteen members, and they have killed three negroes and wounded several others. A perfect state of terror prevails in the community and the entire county is greatly excited

HORRIBLE BRUTALITY. An Almost Incredible Story of Cruelty and Murder Perpetrated by the Captain and

Mates of an American Bark. NEW BEDFORD, Conn., July 21 .- A terrible story of cruelty, murder and mutiny on board the bark Petrel of this port, comes from Auckland, where the captain and others are under arrest. The crew say that from the outset of the voyage they did not get sufficient food and were subjected to all kinds of cruelties. The cooper was repeatedly beaten and kicked by the captain and mate. One of the mates amused himself by pulling out a handful of the man's whiskers. On more than one occasion the cooper was stripped by order of the mate and sailors were compelled to rub the skin off with bricks and sand. One of the poor fellow's legs was swollen till it was fully eighteen inches in diameter. When he finally died there was scarcely a sound spot on his body. All sailors were frequently kicked and beaten by the captain and officers. One man was pulled about the deck with a rope around his neck. A sailor named Lake was forced into the rigging when too sick to stand, and fell to the deck. He has been paralyzed ever since. The captain is now in jail at Auckland, on a charge of murder. His defense is a general denial, and a charge that some of the men conspired with the third mate to A Record Hard to Break. Washington, July 22 .- Captain John Grant, of New Orleans, aged ninety, was apparently the most gratified person at the reception of the President this morning for he had thereby shaken hands with every President of the United States commencing with Washington. During by the G. A. R. and U. S. Grant Post of Jackson's administration the Captain spent several weeks as a guest at the White House, and he informed the President to-day that he had not swerved a step from the line of CHICAGO, July 21 .- At a meeting of the executive committee of the Postmasters' Mutual Association yesterday it was determined to call a convention for the 24th of September next, for the purpose of organizing a benefit association. The action of Perry Russel in sending out blank applications for membership accompanied by a request to remit five dollars, was condemned as without authority Mr. Russel says that he gave his time and money solely to further the organization of the association, and he claims that the strictures upon him are the result of jealousy and spite work which is alfogether unwarranted.

A Fatal Shock.

TROY, N. Y., July 21 .- Thomas Miller, has been arrested on a charge of murder- | fourteen years old, was instantly killed by coming in contact with an electric Miss Ella Bowe, a young girl of seven- light wire. Miller, with several companions, was standing around an electric light pole. The boys found an old wire ship, Barry County, and was witnessed on the ground and Miller suggested that was threatened with death if he gave any the loose wire and began to swing. Soon he wore a hole through the insulation on As he fell to the ground electric sparks ing. The dead bodies were found in a flew from the ends of his fingers.

ONLY A CRANK,

Who Thought He Had Some Claim to the Consideration of the President-The Police Took Care of Him Just the Same, for Safety's Sake.

ALBANY, N. Y., July 23 .- While the President was receiving the public in the Senate chamber yesterday, a man with a swarthy face, short black side whiskers and black moustache and shabbily dressed in a well-worn light suit of clothes, was noticed hovering about the President. Finally he stealthily crept up behind him. The police had been watching his movements, and at this juncture he was arrested and taken out of the

When the attention of the President and those who accompanied him was drawn to the man they remembered that he had been hovering around the President all the afternoon. The man protested against being arrested, but was led off to the Second precinct station house. There he was searched, but no papers were found on him. In his pockets were six dollars in bills and some small change. He said his name was Mather Schuler; that he was twentyeight years old, and when at home, which was not often, he lived in Kingston, N. Y. He was a peddler by occupation he said, and had been selling medals, bananas and other articles in Albany during the bi-centennial exercises. When asked why he had followed the President about, he said that when Cleveland was a candidate for President he introduced his name in various towns and cities through the State and spoke to the people for him. He thought he deserved a political position. He was a poor man and wanted to better himself, and he thought if the President knew what he had done for him he would give him a position. He was only watching for an opportunity to speak to him, he said. The police decided to lock the man up until the President was out of Albany.

SERIOUS COLLISION.

Five Persons Injured in a Collision Occasioned by a Conductor's Mistake in Interpreting His Orders. STEUBENVILLE, O., July 24 .- Yesterday afternoon about three o'clock a collision occurred on the Pan-Haudle railway, near Fernwood station, between west and east bound trains. Both engines and several cars were wrecked and five persons were injured. The engineer and fireman of the east-bound train escaped by jumping. The injured are: John Shaw, engineer of the westbound train; seriously cut about the head and breast and injured internally.

IDLE TALK. Ex-Senator McDonald Characterizes the Recent Talk of Cabinet Changes as Having No Foundation. CHICAGO, Ill., July 23 .- Ex-Senator Joseph E. McDonald, of Indiana, arrived at the Palmer House last evening. In regard to the rumored Cabinet changes, he said:

"There is no foundation for the various reports in regard to my being offered a position in the Cabinet, so far as I am aware. I don't think that President Cleveland is contemplating any changes. There is no probability of Secretary Manning resigning, so long as there is any hopes of his recovery. He is a young man, and is strong and active, and everything is in his favor. He is the President's right-hand man in the Cabinet. and is close and wise in counsel. The report that I am to be given a place in the Cabinet; that Attorney-General Garland was to be displaced, and that Morrison is to succeed Manning, is all talk and without foundation." In regard to the President's silver doctrine, Mr. McDonald said he could hardly define it, but he thought that silver should be utilized as a coin medium; that it was a bountiful product in this country and convenient for a monetary

ONE YEAR AGO. First Anniversary of the Death of General Grant-Tokens of Remembrance at the Tomb at Riverside.

NEW YORK, July 24 .- A great many people remembered the anniversary of General Grant's death, and the number of visitors to his tomb was large. There was also a quiet observance of the day Brooklyn. The latter organization went to the tomb in a body and laid a beautiful floral tribute upon the casket. Colonel Fred Grant visited the tomb about noon and entered alone. After remaining a few moments he came out bearing a branch of ivy which he had cut from one of the numerous collections of plants and flowers which had been sent to the tomb by persons in different parts of the country. A young man and wife, evidently recently married, asked the Colonel for a leaf of the ivy, and he gave them a spray. After he had departed, some choice cutflowers arrived from Mrs. U. S. Grant and Mrs. Dr. Newman. They were placed on the casket. Fleeing from Drought and Starvation. FORT WORTH, Tex., July 23 .- Wagons loaded with families and their effects from the western counties are streaming through the city. They are fleeing from the drought prevalent in the western counties, and have come here in quest of work. They give most gloomy accounts of the condition of crops, and the lack of water for stock. It has not rained in some of these drought-stricken counties for over a year. Hundreds of families are abandoning their cattle and homes and going eastward to keep from starving to death. Rain seldom falls in these counties during August, and by that time there will be nothing left in the country.

Started on the Back Track. NEW YORK, July 23 .- The State Line steamer State of Georgia brought from Glasgow on Wednesday, among her other passengers, 200 Russian Jews, fifteen of whom-seven males, three women and five children-had nothing but the dirty clothes on their persons. The Castle by Willis Dahoney, a colored man, who they take a shock. He caught hold of Garden officials ordered the fifteen back whence they came, and they will be taken there at the cost of those who brought the electric light wire and Miller re- them. When it was made known to them ceived a shock that instantly killed him, that they had to return to Europe they became very violent in their expressions of grief at their fate.
